

Objet: next adjoint workshop

For those interested in the next "Adjoint Workshop"

The 11th Workshop on Meteorological Sensitivity Analysis and Data Assimilation is now scheduled for 2-6 July 2018 at the Meliá Ria Hotel in Aveiro, Portugal. A pair of tutorials on fundamentals for students will be presented on 1 July. The cost for room, all meals, and registration fee will be approximately 850 euros for single occupancy for 5 days or 720 euros for double occupancy including the tutorial day. The format will be similar to that of the previous workshops.

The workshop committee includes Ron Errico, Nikki Privé, Andy Moore, Liang Xu, Sarah Dance, Marta Janiskova, Loik Berre, and David Carvalho. Nikki and I have requested NSF funds for students or postdocs from U.S. institutions. In a later email we will be requesting suggestions for topics for "invited" lecturers and possible debate issues. So far, more than 65 persons have indicated their interests in attending. Please pass this announcement to any colleagues who may be interested.

For the workshop committee,
Ron Errico

--

Dr. Ronald M. Errico                      phone: 301-614-6402
Global Modeling and Assimilation Office   fax: 301-614-6246
Code 610.1, Goddard Space Flight Center   ronald.m.errico@nasa.gov
Greenbelt MD 20771                      Building 33 Room C218